Dying Earth Vance Jack Hillman

Dying Earth is a fantasy series by the American author Jack Vance, comprising four books originally published from 1950 to 1984. Some have been called picaresque. They vary from short story collections to a fix-up (novel created from older short stories), perhaps all the way to novel.. The first book in the series, The Dying Earth, was ranked number 16 of 33 "All Time Best Fantasy Novels" by ...

Dying Earth - Wikipedia

The Dying Earth is the first of Jack Vance's Tales of the Dying Earth and contains six somewhat overlapping stories all set in the future when the sun is red and dim, much technology has been lost, and most of humanity has died out. Our planet is so unrecognizable that it might as well be another world, and evil has been "distilled" so that it's concentrated in Earth's remaining inhabitants.

I had always heard that Jack Vance wrote the stories in the Dying Earth while in the merchant marine during WWII, and published them in the Hillman paperback in 1950. Of course, I'm nowhere near the scholar some of these people are, so you should be getting a more definite answer, with names, dates, and musical accompaniment, shortly.

Renaissance. To the delight of his many readers, Jack Vance is so creative as to devise entirely unique and wholly wondrous environments. The "Dying Earth", for example is a marvelous, dark far-future world setting. The earth is no longer our world, just as the sun is no longer the Old Sol we see. It is a

I'm a 20-years-long ardent fan of almost everything Jack Vance. Mostly I prefer his SF over the fantasy. Or, I did so at first. The Dying Earth really takes two or three re-readings to appreciate in all of its depth. I am very glad to have it in audiobook format on this account. I've re-listened to this one three times now and am sure I'll do ...
